

Clinical Practice Frequently Asked Question

Q: What is the minimal amount of time between patients?

A: There is not a set time frame, but the meeting of “critical elements”. This criterion is that the patient has a stable airway, free from agitation, report has been received, and the nurse has accepted care of the patient, and the initial assessment has been completed.