WELCOME TO PHILADELPHIA

ASPAN is pleased to welcome you to the 41st National Conference at the Philadelphia Marriott Downtown in Center City Philadelphia. This newly renovated hotel is located within walking distance of many of the city's spectacular sights.

We welcome you to the City of Brotherly Love. Enjoy the conference and all that Philadelphia has to offer!

Philadelphia, the 'City of Brotherly Love,' is rich in American history. The city's name translates from two Greek words: love (phileo) and brother (adelphos). Established and named in 1682 by the Quaker William Penn, Philadelphia was a key city in the Revolutionary War and the founding of our country. You can recreate and celebrate freedom, liberty, and independence.

If you are seeking historical experiences, you will find many points of interest including Independence Hall, The Liberty Bell, and the National Constitution Center. Valley Forge is less than an hour outside the city. Take a bus tour or carriage ride around the city to see historic buildings and residences.

There are many destination-defining attractions to be discovered in the city. Philadelphia is known for its professional sports teams and universities. If you are lucky, the Phillies baseball team will be playing at home. Find your fun in the city's many parks and outdoor spaces. Spring is a great time to visit! There's an incredible mix of fun things to do in Philadelphia, making this city an ideal destination spot to create great memories for everyone, such as arts and culture, family entertainment, and renowned restaurants. Excellent shopping awaits visitors in Rittenhouse Square. There are photo opportunities with the LOVE Sculpture, located just northwest of City Hall, as well as the Rocky Steps and Statue at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. You can simply walk across the street from our hotel and experience the rich variety of food vendors and restaurants at the Reading Terminal Market. Don't forget to sample a Philly cheesesteak so you can participate in the discussion about which is the best in the city.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

ASPAN's 41st National Conference, Perianesthesia Nursing Together: Importance of Connection, Power of Community is planned and designed with you in mind! The national conference will provide you the opportunity to both network with peers, leaders and experts from diverse geographical and healthcare areas. #601 Unexpected Perioperative Neurologic Complications

Neurologic complications associated with anesthesia and/or surgery are relatively rare but are associated with increased morbidity and mortality. Perianesthesia nurses frequently encounter patients with derangements in neurologic function and need to quickly determine etiology and treatment to ensure optimal patient outcomes. This session will provide a review of the neurologic effects of general anesthesia and neuroaxial anesthesia. Using a case study approach, potential neurologic complications will be discussed including emergence delirium, local anesthetic toxicity, failure to awaken, awareness under anesthesia and serotonin syndrome as well as non-anesthesia related neurologic emergencies such as acute stroke.

#402 Bridge the Gap: Retaining the Multigenerational Workforce

Historically, nurses working in the perianesthesia settings are experienced with varied nursing specialties and most often from the critical care units. Today, the workforce is changing some are retiring early; working longer, decrease their work hours or even change to flexible status and new perianesthesia nurses may not have those years of experiences and critical care background. A multigenerational workforce is emerging changing the culture. Are we ready to embrace our differences and retain our staff?

With the accelerated development of more sophisticated procedures performed in outside of the traditional operating room, the demand for nurse-administered moderate sedation as well as anesthesia-delivered sedation, or monitored anesthesia care, has resulted in increased perianesthesia care of these postprocedure patients. This session begins with an in-depth description of the sedation continuum, from nurse-administered moderate sedation to deep and general anesthesia levels of sedation during monitored anesthesia care. Procedural sedation across all phases of perianesthesia nursing are explored, from presedation/pre-anesthetic assessments, periprocedural management and monitoring recommendations to postprocedural monitoring and discharge criteria. #504 Care of the Neurosurgical Patient: Head to their Toes

Neurosurgical interventions are aimed to restore function, ameliorate pain, and repair vascular blood supply or to remove malignancies, to name a few. While postoperative disposition of the neurosurgical patient varies amongst organizations, it is not uncommon for a perianesthesia nurse to care for this patient population. The perianesthesia nurse must possess the knowledge and skills of both routine perianesthesia nursing care as well as knowledge and understanding of the complexities of the nervous system and of neurosurgical procedures in order to assess, provide care for and comprehensively evaluate the neurosurgical patient. In the event of postoperative complications, timely identification and intervention as indicated is critical to prevent permanent disability. This session reviews neurosurgical and neurointerventional procedures involving the brain and spinal column. Clinical signs and symptoms, along with management strategies, of altered level of consciousness, intracranial hypertension, hemorrhage, vasospasm, altered neurologic function and endocrinopathies are discussed.
